Cindy's

Best of luck always to a fellow yearbook staffer.
See you in Senior H.R.

Joe Barbe

Dearest Cindy,

Sive really gotten to know you this year and Sm so glad that S did. You're a great kid and Sm so happy for you. S hope you and Joe have all the happiness you both deserve. We've had a wonderful time this year and S hope that we'll have fun this summer and next year. Remember the fun we've had on the Junior Play "Stage Crew?" S hope our friendship will last throughout High School days and even beyond. S will certainly remember all the fun we have had "cruising" together. Remember me.

Love

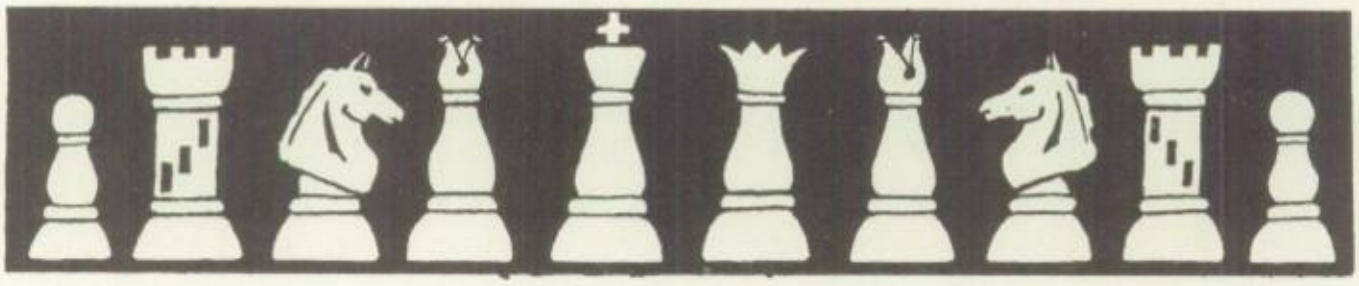
Board of Education



Walter L. Bumgardner

With a certain sense of satisfaction I observe a definite seriousness of purpose among you. Generally you recognize an obligation to assume responsibility for your own careers. You have come to realize that the decisions you make have significance; that each decision has a bearing on one that may follow. This careful preparation for the next step that I have noted makes us optimistic concerning your future years.

Donald T. Graves

May you continue in your determination to be successful persons, each of whom will make for himself a place of leadership in whatever place he lives.

Hold fast to your high standards and ideals so that above all you are conspicuous for high character. As you graduate go forth with faith and may the God of that faith go with you.

Walter L. Bumgardner

Foreword

Life is like a game of chess in that every move in the game leads inevitably to future moves and to certain success or defeat. We, as seniors, are facing a most important move in the game. As in chess, so in our lives, we must contemplate our moves carefully and make our decisions wisely.

One becomes skilled in the challenging game only through learning and doing. So in life, as we carry out our decisions, we become able to live well. Our success or failure in the future depends upon how well we move through early steps, and how much we put into our education and preliminary training.

In the game of life some of us will be tomorrow's leaders—the kings and queens. Others, the people, who are the nation itself, will be the knights and pawns. What ever our place in life, we will realize that its foundations were laid in our high school days. Thank you, Alma Mater, East Aurora High School, "we'll always love thy name."

Class of 1956

To show our deep gratitude we are happy to dedicate this "Auroran" to Mary Virginia Austin. We seniors feel that she has done a most noble job as our guide and teacher through our high school years. We sincerely appreciate her patient kindness and her willingness to help anyone at any time. She has given of herself to us in these and many more ways. For this we will always remember Mrs. Austin.

Dedication

Our friend, Frank Graziano, has been our loyal class advisor for three years. He has promoted the success of our class activities by his willing help, able assistance, and expert guidance. Now at the close of our high school years, we wish to thank him by dedicating this "Auroran" to him in recognition of all he has done for us.

Advisors and Guidance

Miss Stanbro: Our class appreciates you have done to build up our erests and the unselfish gift of ne you have given in preparing us college or a vocation.

Mr. Thomas C. Moore: We, the class of 1956, wish to express our gratitude for the great leadership and cooperation that we have received from you, our principal.

Mr. Richert, we wish to thank you for your helpful guidance throughout our high school years. Your expert consideration of our problems and your aid in their solution are much appreciated.

We were sorry to lose Mr. Beebe February to a new job. We appre- e your unselfish efforts on our alf. Good luck in whatever you undertake.

Mrs. Austin, you have been such a help to us in all phases of our high school years. The assistance you have given to our social functions as well as to that of our guidance is appreciated by us all.

Mr. McNeil: We, the class of 1956, wish to acknowledge our gratitude to you, Mr. McNeil, our outstanding junior high school advisor, for your patience and understanding during our earlier years.

Advisors and Guidance

Mr. Henry, to you we want to say ank you for being such a wonder- l and understanding home room acher. You helped to make our enior year the happy and fun-filled ne it was.

Mr. Nisita, we realize that you have given of your valuable time and effort for us this year in the comple tion of our Senior project, the '5 Auroran. Please accept our heart thanks for all you have done.

Mr. Graziano, for your assistance and aid in our many projects for the three years you were our advisor, we thank you.

Mr. Burdick, without your invalu- ble service in the department of udiovisual aid we would have acked many worthwhile pieces of nowledge. We thank you for this nost heartily.

Miss Dietrich, for your splendid direction of our junior play, assistance with the year book and the other help you have given us all through our school life, we gratefully thank you.

Mr. Schreiber, we wish to thank you for the splendid job you are doing as junior high advisor. Your assistance helps to form the ideals of the students at an early age.

In Memoriam

His winsome personality and cheerful smile won friends; his integrity and generosity kept them. We, his friends and classmates, can only hope that we may live as happy and unselfish lives as he did, and that in some way our memory of him may make immortal his fine qualities.

"May the Lord watch between me and thee while we are absent one from the other."—Genesis 31:49.

Mr. Bowers:

We regretted the passing of one of our faithful custodians. He did his work well and with such a pleasant attitude. It was a joy to meet him in the halls and he always had a cheery word for everyone.

Class

As the class of 1956 brings to a close thirteen years together in school, we take away with us the fond memories of those years.

Who will ever forget the first moment, when he was brought in to meet his first real teachers, Mrs. Roberts and Miss Morton, the fun he had with the sandbox and real store or the tense moment when Sally Orr climbed to the top of the trapeze and was afraid to come down? Our first lesson in cooperation was evident in this year.

In first grade we were separated into different rooms. Our first drama production was in the form of a play, Molly and Her Dolls. Miss Steger and Mrs. Whiting gave us a start in art and music, but the biggest thing was learning to read and write.

When we moved on to second grade, we found that our teachers had no intentions of being left behind and advanced with us. It was in that year that another second grade teacher was added, so some of us went to Miss Michaels.

A puppet show in the auditorium was a big highlight of our year in third grade. We also began painting murals, with which Miss Steger tried to develop our artistic natures.

Fourth and fifth grades ran smoothly as we advanced in learning and began such complicated things as multiplication tables and, horror of horrors, long division! In fourth grade, Mrs. Bartrum gave us a start on the wonders of science. During these two years, we participated in two operettas. In the fourth grade, most of us were wide-eyed members of the chorus for Dreamboat. In the fifth grade production, Dawn Boy, we advanced to rainbows, raindrops or winds.

In sixth grade we became the "Seniors" of elementary school. We were members of the "Service Club," which helped in the cafeteria or in the halls. As we look back, the younger ones didn't seem to like it very well. The operetta that year was Hansel and Gretel. We all remember Bev Rowley as the green-faced witch who had the cookie house and got pushed into the not too sturdy oven.

Seventh grade was a big year in our lives. We were considered "high school" now and we had lockers, passed classes and had homework just like the big kids! That year we had a Christmas party in the East Gym.

Eighth grade came and we came out of the disillusioned idea that homework was fun. We became more active and this year we held a skating party. In Mr. Hickey's arithmetic class, we learned lots of arithmetic, were threatened with the gavel and enjoyed "Spaghetti Joe."

As freshmen, we held our first big dance, the Sweetheart Swing, with Busti Burke and Carol Teason as King and Queen. We were really successful and it added much to our treasury. Mr. Graziano guided our class that year.

Our sophomore year was our first in senior high school. The Sweetheart Swing became an annual affair and another big success. The second dance, "Club '56," did not fair quite as well. Some people from the class were members of the cast, orchestra, or chorus of the operetta, The Lowland Sea staged during that year. Also during that year 31 members of the class were inducted into the Junior National Honor Society.

When our junior year rolled around, we became very busy. First, we had the Sadie Hawkins Dance at which Jeff Bailey and Sue Buffum were crowned Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner and won a ham as a prize. Then came our annual Sweetheart Swing and following close at its heels the Junior play, Cheaper by the Dozen. About that time all the drug stores ran out of red hair rinse as the cast all became red-heads overnight. On April 30th, we gave the Junior, Senior Prom, My Blue Heaven. Donn Potter and Marilyn Fox were crowned king and queen. Moons, stars and blue clouds transformed the gym into a place in the sky. This year 25 members of the class were honored by being inducted into the Senior National Honor Society.

After emerging from piles of 3 x 5 cards, schedule changes, magazine subscriptions, Christmas card sales, college applications, cap and gown measurements and a hundred and one other things, we found that we were seniors. Our class is smaller by sixty people and we miss those classmates who went to Iroquois. Our auditorium homeroom is supervised by Mr. Graziano and Mr. Henry. We'll never forget Mr. Graziano's face when we had a fire drill in the midst of handing out Christmas cards or Mr. Henry's lectures on the merits of getting to homeroom at the appointed time and not five minutes later.

As we step out of high school to meet whatever comes, whether it be college, armed forces, or a job, we will take with us these and many more memories.

Miss Dietrich

Last year the class of 1956 presented a well-known, delightful comedy, "Cheaper By the Dozen," expertly directed by Miss Eileen Dietrich. Mr. Gilbreth, our own Dan Babbage, was the efficiency expert father of twelve michievous children. The plot revolves around "Anne," the eldest daughter, and her boyfriend, Larry, played by Nancy Bleekman and Russ Nieman. Mr. Norberg did a very splendid job on the scenery and Miss Harp and her speech classes are to be commended on the make-up work they did. The cast enjoyed presenting this play, even though a great deal of work and long hours of rehearsal went into it. It is an event that will be remembered by all.

The theme for last year's Junior-Senior Prom was "My Blue Heaven." A half moon was suspended over the throne where the king and queen were crowned. Billows of clouds and streamers divinely decorated the room, Glittering stars covered the ice blue walls. The dreamers danced to the heavenly music of Art Dedrick and his band. The king and queen were Donn Potter and Marilynn Fox; the attendants were Pat Young and Roy Potter, Sandra Naulty and Jeff Baily.

This year the Senior National Honor Society has been a credit to E.A.H.S., under the guidance of Miss Iva Boldt, and the leadership of Bob Palmer as president. The Society raised money for American Student Exchange, gave a Christmas party in honor of the alumni, in February additional seniors were inducted in an impressive ceremony, and in the late spring the qualifying juniors were admitted.

Miss Boldt

Honor Societies

The National Junior Honor Society this year had a very impressive ceremony on March 1st. Sophomores and Freshmen were inducted and a tea followed for members and their parents. Mr. Bird, the society advisor, has ably assisted the group this year.

Mr. Bird

Junior:

Student Council

The year 1955-1956 was a successful one for the student council. The 1955 Mardi Gras earned a large sum of money for the foreign exchange program. The Student Council sponsored the Variety Show for the first time this year. The proceeds, which exceeded $250.00, are to be used to finance school assemblies. Also accomplished were the revising of the constitution and making the cafeteria stairway one-way to relieve congestion during lunch periods. The officers were Busti Burke, president; Matt Makowski, vice-president, Judy Reeves, secretary-treasurer, and Bob Rose, Speaker of the House.

Mr. Nisita

Under the guidance of Carlo Nisita, the Art Club has contributed artwork for various organizations during the year. Under the leadership of the president, Lee Johnson, the Art Club has again done a wonderful job for E.A.H.S.

The Youth Discussion Group under Mr. Leland has sponsored several discussions in co-operation with other schools in this area. The Union and Management views of the Westinghouse strike were presented by representatives in two panel discussions.

Mr. Leland

Garcians

Mrs. Thomason

The Garcians have been an active extra curricular group. They presented a humorous skit in the Variety Show. It was entitled "Little Nell of the Plains." The group has also engaged in many projects this year.

The Junior Red Cross has again achieved its goals under the tireless efforts of the sponsor, Miss Hyde. Christmas baskets, gift boxes, working at the blood bank and collecting enrollment funds were the main projects.

Science Club

Mr. Lawson

Under the able guidance of the Science Faculty, the Science Club enjoyed a most successful year. In April the second annual Science Fair was held. It was a booming success as was our first Fair held in 1955. It is becoming an event eagerly awaited by all.

One of the most indispensable activities is the Projection Club. Its members are very dependable and efficient. We are proud of the fine job they have done this year. The Projection Club is ably advised by Mr. Burdick.

Mr. Burdick

This year has been an active one for the F.H.A. Many social gatherings such as dances, skating, bowling, swimming, and pizza parties, have added up to a very busy and satisfying year. The organization also engaged in such worth-while projects as making pinholders for the Veterans and serving a dinner for the F.F.A.

The main activity of the Future Farmers of America is that of supervised projects. These projects usually consist of livestock and crops. The majority of the members enjoy and profit by the exhibiting of these projects at the state and county fairs. The F.F.A. is supervised by Mr. Gallup and Mr. Bitterman.

Library Staff

The library staff includes students from grades eight to twelve. Working in the library helps each student develop poise and a better understanding of people. This form of service aids each student in many valuable ways. In college when research for subjects is required, it will be especially helpful.

Mr. Hoover

Under the advisorship of Mr. Hoover, E.A. this year finished with a record of 11 wins and 3 losses. Our golf team has brought us the championship for the fourth consecutive time by winning the Western New York A. A. Our golfers also won the over-all sectional championship and the right to represent Section Six in the State Invitational Tournament at Schenectady.

Row Two: Sidney Palmer, Edward Horning, Bob Palmer, Fenton Burke.

Mr. Drescher

Our J.V. baseball team won many exciting games. The record for the year is 8 wins and 6 losses.

Swimming Team

The installation of our new swimming pool has created two new sports; water ballet and the swimming team. Our swimming team has made an excellent record this year for our school. The boys have worked hard to earn this credit. Our water ballet group has been diligently working this year on their form and routines. Next year we hope to see the results of these efforts.

Miss Kingsley

Varsity Cheerleaders

Our cheerleaders under the able guidance of Miss Kingsley, have done an excellent job this year promoting school spirit. With Pat Young as captain, our squad has really done a wonderful job at all the games. The humorous poems they surprised us with at the last basketball pep assembly were really tops.

Sports

Girls' sports highlighting the '55-'56 season were field hockey, tennis, basketball, volleyball, bowling, and a variation of swimming activities. Under the supervision of Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. Luders and Miss Kingsley. The Senior High girls experienced a sport-filled year. Many play-days in basketball and volleyball occurred throughout the season against such teams as Eden, Iroquois, Hamburg, Pine Hill, Park, Frontier and West Seneca. A co-educational play-day at Iroquois went into action at the end of the volleyball season. Four senior girls and four senior boys participated in this activity.

The Best of everything and good Luck

Jerry Gaillard

Cindy,
Best of Luck and remember all of the good times we've had in our classes. Say - do you think we'll ever go into the bee business? Be good to Joe and the bees!

Joyce - "Hass"

Dear Cindy,
This will probably be too long to read but here goes ——

Best of everything to you because I know that you really deserve it. I'm so happy that your going with Joe and I only hope that maybe I can find someone as wonderful and considerate someday. You don't know how lucky you are. Never forget all the fun that we had this year at the high school ox Saturdays during scenery construction for the Junior play. It sure was fun and worth all our time. Remember Dexter and our review classes and the yardstick he so bravely handled. Remember Rockford Lake and our sunburns. Mine still hurts!! Next year our yearbook will be the best ever and the cheapest. I've really treasured our friendship over the years and never let it end. Don't forget - that I live in East Aurora this summer. Come and see me often. Take care of Joe!! Never forget me because I'll never forget you.

Love to you,
Judy Henry
